

DELTA MATRIX HIGH TECH CREATIONS

Delta Matrix is a 'High-Concept' building system, aimed at quality conscious designers of exhibit design, office interiors, retail display units, museum display and even office furniture. The carefully researched design and simple assembly technique offer unique possibilities in design and architectural styling. The combination of Delta Matrix structure (chassis) with traditional materials (graphics, laminates, glass, timber, aluminum) offers endless scope for 'high-concept' creations.

Explore the limits of your imagination... Discover the link between atmosphere and design. Discover the new industry standard in exhibit system solutions. This unique audacious construction system offers incalculable possibilities for totally amazing product presentations. Lightweight anodized aluminum profiles and stainless steel components become your ultimate tools to fuse architectural synergy with new age design versatility.
